

Program Manager
Oregon Humanities
Full-time (40 hours per week)

The Oregon Humanities team is a small group of idealistic, collaborative, creative people who are committed to bringing Oregonians together across differences, beliefs, and backgrounds. Each year, we offer hundreds of public conversations and programs across the state and tens of thousands of dollars in grants to organizations that, like us, believe in the power of people in rooms listening, learning, and struggling together. In our magazine and on our website, we publish essays, photographs, films, and audio recordings that explore the thoughts, perspectives, and experiences of Oregonians, especially those who have been ignored, generalized, or oppressed.

We are looking for a full-time program manager to lead program staff in developing our ever-growing statewide conversation programs, strengthening relationships in urban and rural communities, and developing new partnerships. This person will also oversee grantee relationships and be ready to dive into organization-wide initiatives including program evaluation and data management, guided in all efforts by OH's diversity, equity, and inclusion strategies.

Oregon Humanities values equity, justice, empathy, and respect as key attributes of vital, flourishing communities. We encourage applications from candidates with diverse backgrounds, particularly those from historically underrepresented groups, whose professional and personal experiences will help us work toward our vision of an Oregon that invites diverse perspectives, explores challenging questions, and strives for just communities.

This is a full-time, exempt position. If you are interested in applying, first please review the complete job description at oregonhumanities.org/who/jobs. Then, by 11:59 p.m., May 16, 2017, send to jobs@oregonhumanities.org the following: a resume; and a cover letter explaining how you can help us deepen statewide engagement and grow conversation programs. Please submit all three required items combined as a single document.

No phone calls or email inquiries, please.
